Solar Energy for Clean Electricity

Information Speech by Ashana Temenggung

Today, we are going to talk about solar energy. People should learn about solar energy because they have used it for thousands of years in many ways. The oldest usage of solar energy was cooking, heating, and drying things. Do you want to know how solar energy works?

Energy is very expensive, which is why people made solar panels. Power plants take up a lot of space, and trees need to be cut down. To prevent doing this, you can put solar panels on rooftops.

Since the sun produces electricity, we don't need to harm the environment. Solar energy works with the help of the sun. When the sunbeam hits the solar panel, with the help of the solar panel, the electricity can power up the refrigerator, light, and many more things.

That is why people should learn about solar energy. Remember, use solar energy for clean electricity!!!

Mother Gothel, a Dramatic Monologue

by Ambara Zayana Kinanty, 3T

I'm Mother Gothel, and I'm a villain from the story called "Rapunzel". Yes, the story is not about me. It's about the lost princess. However, let me tell you my side of the story.

I live in a forest where a magical flower grows, and it's called the 'Sunburn Flower.' I'm glad that it keeps me alive and beautiful because I'm over 400 years old. I'm so happy as long as I'm alive and beautiful.

One day, I came to check on the flower, but it was gone! I was scared, I was shocked! I tried searching everywhere for it! Then, I discovered that the queen was ill and ate the flower to heal herself, but the magic was absorbed into the baby princess's hair! I was so mad! But luckily, I got a plan. So that night, I stole the baby princess and locked her in a tower in the middle of the woods where nobody could find her. Every day, I visit her to give her food and water and treat her like my own child. Since there are no stairs, I call her by saying, "Rapunzel, Rapunzel, let down your hair!"

Her hair is so long that it reaches the ground of the tower. But one day, she snuck out and met a criminal prince, Flynn Rider. When I came back to the tower, I noticed Rapunzel was gone! I searched in the woods, but she was nowhere to be found. When I found her, she was with the criminal prince at the tower. I was furious, so I took a knife and I stabbed the criminal. But before he died, he cut Rapunzel's hair, and the magic was broken! I became old and ugly and, sooner or later, I died in terror! I was angry and shocked by how Rapunzel treated me! So I died in the tower alone while Rapunzel went back to the castle to reunite with her real parents.

Belle's Monologue

BY MEDINA TANRISAU 4R

Hi, I'm Belle. I'm not the kind of child you can terrify into obedience. Terrifying me isn't enough.

This life... the bakery, the books, and the same people saying the same things every single day. They all think I'm strange- for wanting more, for not wanting to marry Gaston, for not wanting to live a quiet life as a housewife..

But every book I read, every story I follow, tells me there's something else

A world beyond this village. I know it's out there. I can feel it calling to me, and if I don't answer, if I stay here and become a good wife, a quiet woman... then my story will end before it even begins.

It feels as if, if I don't follow that pull towards something more, then what was the point of all these books? What was the point of dreaming? I don't want to just exist here. I want to live!

The Housemaid

A Book Slam by Cammy Catalina Irawan 5T

From behind closed doors,
she sees everything

THE HOUSEMAID
FREIDA MCFADDEN

Imagine this, you move into a beautiful mansion. You get free meals, your own room, and a steady paycheck.

Sounds like a dream job, right?

But what if the people who hired you... were hiding dangerous secrets? What if the house you cleaned...

became your prison?

That's the chilling story behind The Housemaid by Freida McFadden.

The book follows Millie, a young woman down on her luck. She's desperate for work, so when she lands a job as a live-in housemaid for the wealthy Winchester family, it feels like a miracle. At first, the job seems perfect. She gets a place to live, hot meals, and a good pay.

But almost immediately, she realizes something is very wrong in the Winchester home. The glamorous wife, Nina, is unpredictable and cruel. The husband, Andrew, seems charming... but not everything about him adds up. And the house itself feels like it's hiding more than just dust.

My favourite character is Millie, because she's not just a victim. She's smart, observant, and stronger than anyone expects. And Nina Winchester? Let's just say she is the kind of character who keeps you guessing until the very end.

The story takes place almost entirely inside the Winchesters' luxurious suburban home. It should feel safe and perfect, instead it feels claustrophobic, like every locked door and whispered conversation is a trap.

My favourite part of the book is when Millie finally stops being powerless. She turns the tables in a way that had me literally gasping. It's one of those stories where you think you know what's happening, but then a twist comes along and blows everything apart.

Read The Housemaid. It's gripping. It's full of shocking twists. It makes you wonder: how well do we really know the people behind closed doors?

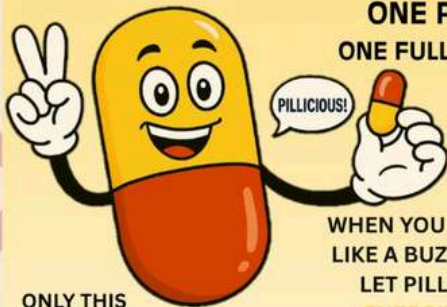

So if you're ready for a story that feels like stepping into a nightmare, one where the maid isn't just cleaning the house, but uncovering its darkest secrets then The Housemaid is the book you need to read.
